

Josh Clark – Managing Partner & Co-Portfolio Manager, Southpoint

Josh co-founded Southpoint Capital in 2004. Prior to starting Southpoint, Josh worked as an analyst at Greenlight Capital. In 1997, Josh founded GameSouth, a specialty vending company headquartered in Atlanta. Previously Josh worked as an analyst at Prometheus Partners and as an auditor at Price Waterhouse. He graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1995 with a B.S. in Business Administration and a Masters of Accounting. He received an MBA with distinction from Harvard Business School in 2002.